++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Largely dry, bright and cold today. Rain arriving later.

Today:
After a cold and locally frosty start in places, it should be a largely dry and bright day, with some sunny spells. However, cloud and outbreaks of rain will arrive from the west by the evening, with freshening winds. Cold. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud and outbreaks of rain will quickly clear eastwards into the North Sea by midnight, with drier and clearer skies following. Turning chilly, with a touch of frost in places. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Friday:
A cold and frosty start in places on Friday, although it should be a largely dry, bright, but breezy day for many. A few showers over western hills. Feeling cold. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
A frosty start on Saturday, before wet and windy weather sweeps eastwards. Drier and brighter on Sunday, but windy and milder too. Early rain clearing to drier conditions on Monday.
